AN ACT

PROVIDING FOR REORGANIZATION AND REFORM OF THE STRUCTURE OF THE UNIFORMED MEMBERS OF THE BUREAU OF FIRE PROTECTION, AMENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF REPUBLIC ACT NO. 6975 AND REPUBLIC ACT NO. 9263 AND OTHER PURPOSES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Over the past few years, efforts to establish safety standards and prevention measures that will seek to avoid, alleviate, and reduce industrial and residential incidents brought about by fire, accident, and other tragedies have been neglected. Regrettably, the increasing necessity to ensure fire safety, disaster prevention, and emergency response has been ignored.

As a reaction to this, it is hereby declared a policy of the State to secure the people's lives and property against fire and other emergencies. This bill primarily aims to transform the BFP to become the main government agency responsible for the avoidance and elimination of all destructive fires, as well as the improved enforcement of the Fire Code of the Philippines and other related laws. The bill also suggests to grant the BFP the authority to investigate all causes of fires and the power to respond to all types of disasters and emergencies including rescue, medical, and other calamities.

Through the years, the BFP has developed from being an agency tasked to implement fire prevention laws, respond to and investigate fire emergencies to becoming an agency assigned to respond to medical emergencies and carry out rescue operations during disasters and other forms of tragedies. In addition to this, it has also been engaged in medical responses to both fire-related and non fire-related incidents.

The BFP has also been active on the aspects of disaster preparedness and response. Climate change has led to stronger and more destructive typhoons passing through the country. In response to this, the BFP has organized its units in the clearing of roads, emergency evacuation of families, and distribution of relief goods in areas which are massively damaged by the typhoons. The BFP is honored to affirm that it is the agency that had been at the forefront of the aftermath of the typhoon Yolanda tragedy, from its beginning to its conclusion, recovering cadavers and providing aid to the people through its inadequate resources.

As highlighted by the above-mentioned facts, there is an urgent need for a measure that will broaden the powers and functions of the BFP and increase its manpower. The said measure will boost the operational efficiency of the BFP and will address the evolving demand of the citizens for a fire and medical emergency and rescue services agency that can effectively and efficiently respond to the dangers of destructive fires, accidents, and other natural and man-made tragedies and other catastrophes.

The necessity to have additional firefighters has also been heightened by the constant expanding population of the country. As of the 2015 census, the Philippine population is already at 100,981,437. Thus, considering that Section 5 of PD 1184 of 1977 necessitates that there should be one (1) fireman for every 2,000 population, there should be a total of 50,491 firefighters in the frontline operations of the BFP as of 2015. However, at present, there are only a total of 8,238 personnel who are working as firefighters which highlights the immense need to enhance the responding manpower along with the ranks of the officers and personnel.

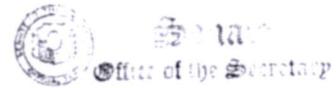

Moreover, it is also worth noting that the BFP is among the uniformed services of the country which includes the Philippine National Police (PNP), the Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP), and the Philippine Coast Guard (PCG), among others, whose highest ranks are all equivalent to a four-star general. However, unlike them, the highest ranking officer of the BFP is only equivalent to a two-star general. Therefore, taking into account the principle of equality, it is just appropriate that the officers of the BFP should be given a position which is at par with those of their counterparts from the PNP, AFP, and PCG.

In view of all of the foregoing reasons and considering that the BFP had proclaimed its responsibility of being dedicated in ensuring the avoidance and elimination of destructive fires, investigating its causes, enforcing the Fire Code of the Philippines and other related laws, and in responding to man-made and natural disasters and other emergencies despite the lack of legislative intervention, the necessity for additional manpower to conform to that growth of the mandate and the population and the need to have the BFP officers to be positioned equally with those of the officers of the other uniformed services have been clearly demonstrated. Hence, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
